

About

Civics 101 provides free online educational tools to teach Pennsylvania students about how state government functions. Aimed at the fourth grade level, these free videos are intended to supplement classroom learning. Programs include interviews with elected officials who have served in the three branches of government, tours of the state Capitol and Governor's residence, and tutorials on how government works. In addition, a Continuing Education section provides adults with a deeper level of study through panels and lectures on topics of interest.

Civics 101 is a public service of \Box PCN, the Pennsylvania Cable Network.

Free video gallery available at pcntv.com

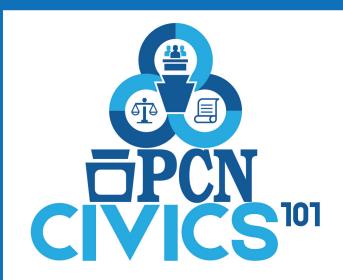

The Media are responsible for covering events and reporting information to the public through various means, including print, electronic, and digital channels.

Pennsylvanians are called to vote as part of their civic duty in a democratic government. To register to vote in Pennsylvania, you must be 18 years of age and a resident of the district you wish to vote for at least 30 days prior to the election.

This section includes panels and forums centered on topics of interest to adults. Themes include voting, judicial independence, and the Constitution.

□PCN (Pennsylvania Cable Network) is a nonpartisan, non-profit television network responsive to the needs and interests of Pennsylvania and its people.

□PCN provides unedited coverage of politics and policy, unique accounts of history and culture, and a variety of sports championships and events from the state of Pennsylvania. Watch □PCN on cable and stream on demand using □PCN Select.

Go to pcntv.com to learn more.

401 Fallowfield Road Camp Hill, PA 17011 717-730-6000

©2018 Pennsylvania Educational Communications Systems. All rights reserved.

Make Sense of Civics

Pennsylvania's General Assembly consists of two bodies, the Senate and the House of Representatives.
The main task of these two bodies is to make laws.

The Governor serves as the Executive of Pennsylvania. He or she is responsible for approving or vetoing laws passed by the General Assembly, subject to a two-thirds override.

Pennsylvania's judicial branch is responsible for interpreting the state Constitution, and deciding cases.

Videos in this section include:

- How a Bill Becomes Law
- Tour of the PA State Capitol Building

Videos in this section include:

- Gov. Ed Rendell (2003-2011)
- Gov. Mark Schweiker (2001-2003)
- Tour of PA Governor's Residence

Videos in this section include:

- PA Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas Saylor
- Judge Marjorie O. Rendell, U.S. Court of Appeals

Free video gallery available at pcntv.com