About

The Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities has been protecting Pennsylvanians for more than 100 years. One of our top priorities is protecting Pennsylvania's seniors from elder financial abuse. To do that, we have partnered with the Pennsylvania Department of Aging and various other national, state, and local organizations to offer innovative, ground-breaking programs to Pennsylvania professionals.

The goal of these partnerships is to create a state-wide safety net of professionals who can identify and report suspected Elder Financial Abuse.

Elder financial abuse has skyrocketed to be the #1 issue reported and verified to Adult Protective Services staff – and that is only the tip of the iceberg, as so much abuse goes unreported. The ripple effect is devastating to seniors, families, and the entire community. Your participation as a professional leader is critical to expanding awareness of the issue.

Research shows that elder Americans are at serious risk for being victims of elder investment fraud, particularly those with mild cognitive impairment (MCI). The results of a recent national survey indicate that as many as 20 percent of older Americans have already experienced financial fraud or are very concerned about becoming victims of fraud.

Learn more about us on the Department of Banking and Securities website, or through this brief video, here.

Free Training and Education

The Elder Investment Fraud and Financial Exploitation (EIFFE) prevention program is a groundbreaking initiative that trains frontline professionals how to spot financial abuse targeting senior citizens and where to report and make appropriate referrals if abuse is suspected.

The Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities collaborates with the Pennsylvania Department of Aging to bring this training session to professionals in various fields, including social services, medical, legal, and accounting.

Our agencies are jointly fighting elder financial exploitation by raising awareness that this problem exists and that it is growing. Together, we can help prevent this abuse. Through education and training, we can build a safety net in Pennsylvania for the growing senior population.

We offer an opportunity for you to earn continuing education (CE) credits through a presentation that includes an introductory nine-minute video giving an overview of how financial regulators and Adult Protective Services are tackling this problem. It is available for FREE distribution. If you are interested in learning more about the EIFFE program or would like to host a training session, please contact Department of Banking and Securities at informed@pa.gov.

EIFFE is just one of the programs offered by the Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities. To learn more, read our "A Well-Informed Marketplace" guide, or email us at informed@pa.gov.

What Can You Do To Help?

By bringing the EIFFE program and the resources in this toolkit to your organization, you can help address an issue your employees and clients are almost certainly confronting. The program is free, presented by both financial and aging professionals, to enhance clarity and resources. This program can be purely informational, or for CE credits – we have had great success with many professions in providing CE credits, including ethics credits!

How We Can Help Your Group, Organization, or Agency

From building awareness to training, there are no shortage of opportunities to help. These are just a few ways we can help:

- Conference plenary sessions – this is an issue everyone needs to understand. And we have great presenters
- Conference breakout sessions – we can work with your professionals to customize the message to address specific groups of individuals
- Workforce development – from staff meetings to annual meetings, we can help your workforce understand and respond to this issue
- Newsletter content – we will share our articles, op-eds, and other resources so you can reprint and publish them (see pages 12-15)
- Social media content – we will share our social media posts, and even provide instructions (see pages 5-11)

Resources

On the following pages, you will find talking points, video and publications, social media posts (and instructions), photographs, and newsletter articles.

Talking Points

These startling statistics help draw support, whether in-person, in letters, or online.

- Nearly nine out of 10 experts (86 percent) say elderly investment fraud/financial exploitation is getting worse today, with about half (49 percent) saying that it is getting “much worse” today.
- A nearly unanimous 96 percent of those surveyed see a link between mental comprehension issues and elderly victims of investment fraud/financial exploitation.
- More specifically, more than four out of five (81 percent) say their experience is “very” or “somewhat” consistent with a 2008 study which “found that about 35 percent of the 25 million people over age 71 in the U.S. either have mild cognitive impairment or Alzheimer’s disease, making them especially vulnerable to financial exploitation, including investment fraud.”
- 68 percent say that medical professionals can play a “very important” role in spotting and reporting signs of elderly victims of investment fraud/financial exploitation.

- Additional key details:

- 81 percent say Adult Protective Services workers can play a “very important” role in spotting and reporting signs of elderly victims of investment fraud/financial exploitation.
- At 86 percent, “shame on the part of victims” is seen as the #1 reason most elderly investment fraud/financial exploitation goes unreported.
- About three out of five (59 percent) of those surveyed deal with elderly victims of investment fraud/financial exploitation “quite” or “very” often.

Is your client vulnerable to financial exploitation or fraud?

As a professional who may interact with senior citizens, you may notice a number of factors that may clue you in to whether one of your clients is at a greater risk for being the victim of financial exploitation or fraud. Evaluating whether any of the following risk factors applies to someone you are working with can help you better assess where they fall on the “vulnerability scale.”

Do any of these apply to your clients?

- Recent loss of a spouse or partner
- Social isolation
- Dependent on someone for care, transportation, or other services
- Financially responsible for an adult child, grandchild, or other family member
- Recent change in health
- Frequent mistakes in managing finances or expressing feeling overwhelmed in managing finances
- Worrying too much about finances
- Running out of money regularly at the end of the month
- Willing to listen to telemarketers or other unknown callers, attend “free lunch” seminars, or look into work-at-home opportunities or sweepstakes
- Pressure from children, caregivers, or others to share money or change will

If you suspect a client is at a high risk for financial exploitation, contact the Department of Aging’s hotline to report all forms of elder abuse, including elder financial abuse, at 1-800-490-8505. Consumers can also call Department of Banking and Securities consumer hotline (1-800-PA-BANKS) to file a complaint or ask questions about financial products, transactions, or companies.

The PA Department of Banking and Securities offers a free Senior $afe training program to financial professionals, with co-presenters from the Department of Aging. To get Senior Safe training for your organization, email informed@pa.gov.

Preventing Elder Financial Abuse: 11 Steps Your Clients Can Take to Protect Themselves

Tackling elder financial abuse can feel overwhelming at times, leaving senior citizens with the feeling that it may be inevitable or feeling powerless to stop it. However, you can take a number of actions to help protect the senior citizens under your care or to empower them to protect themselves from fraud and abuse:

1. Limit phone calls from strangers and register on the Do Not Call Registry
2. Never give out personal information to strangers in response to texts, emails, or calls regardless of who they claim to be
3. Never wire money to strangers under any circumstances
4. Review your financial account statements at least monthly and address any unauthorized charges or issues immediately
5. Monitor your credit report at least annually
6. Consider enlisting a trusted family member or reputable bill-paying service
7. Use caution when using joint accounts as a method of planning for incapacity or getting help paying bills
8. Execute a power of attorney only if you can appoint someone you completely trust and after consulting with an attorney (and only if necessary)
9. Never convey or quitclaim an interest in real estate without consulting an attorney
10. Use a document shredder for all discarded paperwork and credit card offers
11. Don't be a victim!

Help protect seniors from financial fraud and abuse. If you suspect a client is at a high risk for financial exploitation, contact the Department of Aging's hotline to report all forms of elder abuse, including elder financial abuse, at 1-800-490-8505. Elder Financial Abuse: 4 Tips to Preventing Exploitation and Fraud

Senior citizens fall victim to illegal or improper use of their resources for another's profit or advantage more often than we may think. Here are four tips you can share with your older clients that can help them protect themselves:

1. Use caution utilizing joint account as a method of planning for incapacity, avoiding probate, or getting help with bill paying.
2. Don't talk to strangers and never share your personal information with them, regardless of who they claim to be!
3. Speak to a trusted professional adviser.
4. Protect your financial information.

Do you know the “red flags” of Elder Financial Abuse?

If you work with elderly clients, or as members of your own family age, it is important to understand and be on the lookout for signs of elder financial abuse. Have you noticed any of the following when it comes to a senior citizen in your life?

- Trouble paying bills or making financial decisions
- Feeling pressured for money or to make changes to their will
- Having accounts accessed by others or reporting missing money
- Inability to reach their financial advisor
- Others showing too much control and interfering with your communication with your client
- Showing signs of fear and anxiety
- Discussing a sudden financial windfall
- Showing signs of physical neglect or decline in physical appearance

If you suspect a client is at a high risk for financial exploitation, contact the Department of Aging’s hotline to report all forms of elder abuse, including elder financial abuse, at 1-800-490-8505. Consumers can also call Department of Banking and Securities consumer hotline (1-800-PA-BANKS) to file a complaint or ask questions about financial products, transactions, or companies.
